Congratulations on Hao Huang's Successful PhD Defense

We are thrilled to announce that Dr. Hao Huang has successfully defended his doctoral dissertation on Spatio-Temporal Variations of Vegetation and Hydrology and Their Response to Drought Stress in Lancang-mekong River Basin and has officially earned a Ph.D. in Geophysics. The works in this thesis were made possible by the generous support of our project, funded by the National Natural Science Foundation of China (Grant No. 42361144001), and other fundings. The advisors of this thesis are Prof. Junguo Liu and Prof. Zhenzhong Zeng.
